20,000 TYPEWRITERS IN WAR DEPT. UNUSED

Red Tape Unsanitary to Enable Distribution of Machines to Other Governmental Offices.

Twenty thousand used typewriters, until recently held in storage by the War Department, are now being distributed among the various other Government departments.

Congressman Edward Wason of New Hampshire, member of the House appropriation committee, said today that the committee at a hearing several months ago found that several Government departments were seeking to buy new typewriters.

The committee made an investigation and discovered that more than 20,000 used machines were being held by the War Department and could not be obtained by other departments because of the red tape involved. The committee, in passing the bill, made it possible for any department to requisition these typewriters.

CALICO STOCKINGS STARTLE GOTHAM

Fifth Avenue Stores Abound in Hose of Rainbow Colors. Hosettes Appear.

NEW YORK, May 2.—There shall be calico calves as well as calico ponies; such is the latest decree of feminine stocking manufacturers of this city, who backed up their biological decree early this week by flooding the hosiery shops with stockings of calico and gingham. Meanwhile, opponents of the overall and gingham movement have seized this hose exuberance to prove how low the cause has fallen.

A favorite model was of sheer canary yellow, plentifully besprinkled with black polka dots. Another manikin who received her share of ogles flaunted crossed knees bedecked in a stiff pink-checked gingham. But the skirt was no "simple little gingham," but a fine white georgette.

The manufacturers whose brains ran riot on the hose question explain that there is no intention of matching gowns with hose as "the effect is too conservative; contrast and conspicuousness is essential in the season's hose."

The hosette swirled down upon Fifth avenue this week also and kicked from the counters all orthodox stockings that labored under the delusion that they were designed to cover limbs. The hosette is simply a grown woman's sock that reaches maturity below the dimpled knee and is "scotched" by means of an elastic banding.

All is not gold that glitters, but the summer hose even more than glitter. Gold thread embroidery, jewels and gorgeous-colored effects abound on all hose over fifty dollars per pair. And it is no uncommon sight to gaze upon a confection of hosiery that modestly announces itself as in the hundred-dollar class.

An upper Fifth avenue house is showing a pair of fine glove silk with instep of rose point lace edged with a diamond chip scroll. Diamond garters can be furnished for a thousand more.

JOHNNY JONES SHOWS TO BE HERE ANOTHER WEEK

Due to bad weather, the Johnny J. Jones Exhibition, which opened here last Monday, will remain in Washington for another week, according to an announcement made today by Edward Salter, publicity agent for the show.

Twenty-five attractions are with the Jones show this season, and several riding devices. The feature attractions are the minstrel show, wild west, and the freak show.

It was planned that the show should only remain a week in this city, but large crowds have been prevented from attending the performances owing to the bad weather.

It was decided to hold the exhibition over for another week, in order to give all Washingtonians a chance to see the show.

The exhibition is being held at the show grounds, Fifteenth and H streets northwest.

SARAH BERNHARDT TO REVEAL HER ROMANCES

PARIS, May 2.—All Paris is anxiously awaiting the publication of "La Petite Idole" by Sarah Bernhardt. The work is described as fiction, but is in reality the story of the great tragedienne's earliest romance.

The details are as yet unrevealed, but it is rumored that famous personages who figured in the love affairs of the Divine Sarah when she was first courting public recognition will have chief parts in it.

The seventy-six-year-old actress asserted that she sees no reason why she should not still be appearing publicly when she is 100.

Paris Movie Public Angry Over Ban on American Pictures

PARIS, May 2.—"A restriction against laughter and enjoyment" is the term used by many Parisians against the decree forbidding importation into France of American moving picture films.

The French people frankly admit they like American films best of all, and the French army of movie "fans," which is devoted to admiration of American film stars are much concerned over the order.

All the well-known American favorites have their following here, although many of the films do not reach this country until a year or more after their release.

LABOR TO CARRY ESCH BILL TO CONVENTIONS

Federation Will Ask Republicans and Democrats to Adopt Planks Against Railroad Law.

Repeal of the Cummins-Each railroad law and Government ownership of the railroads will be two of the main planks in the platform to be submitted by the American Federation of Labor to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions. It was learned today.

Following the custom of the federation a committee will be appointed at the June labor convention to appear at the Chicago and San Francisco conventions with labor's platform demanding in the name of 4,500,000 voters that it be inserted in the platform of both parties. It is doubtful whether Samuel Gompers will leave the federation convention to head the committee when it goes to Chicago. It is certain that he will be chief spokesman of the platform committee that appears before the Democratic convention.

Records of members of Congress up for re-election sent to members of the Federation throughout the country show the votes of each man on the Cummins-Each bill.

The high cost of living and profiteering will have a prominent place in the federation's platform.

HAWAIIAN LAND BILL COMES UP IN CONGRESS

Measure Proposing to Open Homesteads for Natives Will Probably Be Passed.

The Hawaiian land bill, which proposes to open as homesteads for native Hawaiians the public agricultural lands and to provide a leasing system for the valuable crown sugar lands, is to be brought up in the House immediately, and its passage urged.

It is stated that unless the bill shall become a law before June the sugar lands, now held under lease, will be thrown on the market because of the expiration of the leases, and may be bought in by Japan and other foreign interests which control the capital necessary to that end.

The bill provides that these lands shall be continued under lease by the government of Hawaii, and that the revenues derived from the leases shall go toward defraying the expenses of the government, and the betterment of the condition of the citizens of Hawaii.

ACTRESS WHO FELL IS GRANTED $25,000

Mrs. Ethel Schubert Wins Verdict in Case Against New York Hippodrome.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Mrs. Ethel Schubert, known professionally as Ethel Lorraine, of Brooklyn, yesterday was awarded a verdict of $25,000 by a jury before Supreme Court Justice Fawcett, of that borough, in her suit against the New York Hippodrome Corporation to recover $100,000 damages for injuries. Mrs. Schubert, November 9, 1919, while taking the part of "3 o'clock" in a clock scene at the Hippodrome, fell twenty feet to the stage floor and suffered spinal and other injuries.

Mrs. Schubert passed 10 months in the Flower Hospital and underwent two operations, after the accident. The contention of her attorney was that on the night of the accident the ladder was so far away from the dial of the clock on which Mrs. Schubert was to take her perch, that she fell in trying to reach it. There was medical testimony to show that the injuries Mrs. Schubert received—she is now twenty-six—will be permanent.

Verdict aside, which Justice Fawcett said was due to Mrs. Schubert's negligence, made a motion to set the verdict aside, which Justice Fawcett denied. An appeal will be taken.

The Salvation Army will not rest on its past reputation, but will repeat the deeds of the past.
